Welcome back to the Summer of 1969....
...The original owner and architect George J. Rehl, clearly prioritized sleek design and clean lines. Offering an open floor plan and wonderful large windows allowing for an abundance of natural light. This classic contemporary home was designed to integrate seamlessly with its natural surroundings and maximize the view of a beautifully landscaped property. George designed this home with four bedrooms, two full baths, an open living and dining room separated by a wood burning fireplace as the center piece. The house also offers a unique studio space, both private and separate with a fifth bedroom, and full bath just above the studio. This is a must see opportunity for the right buyer.
